
Transgender woman murdered

Tyler's friends believe she was a victim of a hate crime.

"This has to be a hate crime, this has to be a hate crime, nothing else because that was an upstanding person with a good heart," Underwood's roommate, Coy Simmons told KYTX.

"She was lovely, just a lovely person."

Tyler's friends say she was well-liked and had no enemies. "She's a fan favourite," Kenya Darks told local news station, KLTV.

Police suggested that Tyler was shot before trying to flee from her attacker in her car. Police are still searching for a suspect. and have appealed to the public to come forward if they have any information.
